Bear-Resistant Trash Container Manufacturers

The following companies produce bear-resistant trash containers. The list is intended to be informational and does not have the endorsement of the New Jersey Division of Fish and Wildlife.

The Division encourages the use of certified bear-resistant trash containers. Certified bear-resistant trash containers have passed a formal testing procedure that has been developed by the Interagency Grizzly Bear Committee.

For more information on the Bear Resistant Products Testing Program and the current list of products that have passed testing, please visit the following link:
